ABOUT THE HONOR SOCIETY OF PHI KAPPA PHI

Phi Kappa Phi is the nation's oldest, largest, and most selective all-discipline honor society. The Society's mission is to recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others.

MOTTO

PHILOSOPHÍA. The first word of the motto literally means "love of wisdom" or "love of knowledge and wisdom," a Greek word compounded from philos, meaning "loving" or "friendly," and sophía, meaning wisdom. However, for historical reasons, the Society uses the phrase "love of learning" out of respect for the founders' English version of the motto that seems to have preceded the Greek version.

KRATEÍTO. The second word of the motto is a verb in the imperative mood, meaning "let...rule." As a strong imperative, it is an exhortation to action, not merely a hope or wish; hence, "let" is used rather than "may." The basic meaning of the word is the exertion of power and control, derived from the noun krátios, meaning "strength" or "might." Krátios is also a source of the terms "democracy" (rule of the people) and "aristocracy" (rule of the noble).

PHŌTŌN. The third word appears in classical Greek poetry and drama—in the tragedies of Euripides, for example, where it designates "mortals" in contrast to the gods of the "immortals." The 1995 Convention in St. Louis changed the official wording from "mankind" to "humanity" on the grounds that the gender bias expressed by the term "mankind" is alien to the ideals of Phi Kappa Phi.

AFFIRMATION OF MEMBERSHIP

In response to the honor bestowed on me by my election to Phi Kappa Phi, I shall continue to uphold the motto of Phi Kappa Phi:

Philosophía Krateiō Phōtōn

Let the Love of Learning Rule Humanity.
